City Man Victim Of Cold Spell

Plugged Chimney Brings Death From Monoxide Fumes

A middle-aged Edmonton resident, Russel Rammennik died yesterday in his Fort Trail home, a victim of the record-shattering cold, as the city and district continued in the grip of the worst winter in half a century.

Rammennik was found sprawled on the floor of his new shack at 12833 Fort Road, a victim of monoxide fumes that flooded his dwelling as the result of a freeze-plugged chimney.

Police say the stove in the sub-zero man's shack was a crude home-made burner. Carbon monoxide is believed to have seeped through the hot air registers by investigating police officials.

Officials of building inspectors department today said Mr. Rammennik had been warned to provide a proper chimney, instead of the makeshift, sewer-line one in the house, and about doing his own gas-fitting.

In the meantime Edmonton endured the first day of continuous sub-normal temperatures with a low morning temperature reading of 32 below zero at 3:30 a.m.

GIVES SOME HOPE
The weatherman indicated a gradual return to higher temperatures in the next day or two as warmer air continues to move slowly into this district from the north.

He warned there would be no immediate break in the cold spell, however, with a high today of 15 below and an overnight low tonight of 25 below.

Official forecast is clear and continuing cold with light winds. Temperature may rise to five below during Thursday.

54 AT EMBARRAS
Coldest place in Alberta today was Embarras with 54 below, with Fort Vermilion and Fort McMurray sharing second place cold honors with 51 below readings.

The weather map in northern Alberta was varied, with Whitecourt, 110 miles northwest of Edmonton, comparatively warm with 12 below.

Calgary reported 19 below while it was up to three below at Cowley and Lethbridge in southern Alberta.

Rare Wintertime Polio Strikes Quebec Area

HALIFAX, Jan. 26.—(CP)—Poor weather conditions are preventing the RCAF from aiding nearly a score of persons on the bleak north shore of the Strait of Belle Isle who are suffering from poliomyelitis.

Dr. Jean Giguere, Quebec deputy health minister, said in Quebec that "immediate arrangements" were being made to fly the victims from the remote settlement of St. Augustin, Que., to Montreal—1,000 miles away.

St. Augustin is near Quebec's Labrador border in a sparsely settled area running from the Gulf of St. Lawrence along the Strait of Belle Isle.

Newfoundland's deputy health minister, Dr. L. A. Miller, Wednesday warned travellers to stay away from Blanc Sablon, 95 miles north-east of St. Augustin.

Dr. Miller also said polio was unknown in winter until an outbreak occurred in Canada's Arctic regions last year. Thirteen deaths resulted among the Eskimo around Point Chesterfield Inlet on the west coast of Hudson Bay.

Fire Destroys Ottawa Block

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—(BUP)—A three-story business block and apartment site on downtown Bank street in Ottawa was razed by fire early today. No lives were lost.

Damage was tentatively estimated at $500,000.

The building was occupied by a Canadian tire corporation associate store, a refrigeration firm, and an art glass company. The second floor was a labor hall, and apartments rented to 12 people were on the third floor.

The fire, which broke out about 1:30 a.m., and was still smoldering at dawn, was punctuated by a series of small explosions.

U.S. Weather Crazy-Quilt Of Contrasts

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—The United States was on a climatic binge today.

Most of nature's elements appeared on the loose, fashioning a crazy-quilt of contrast across the country.

There was bitter cold and mountainous snow over the northern plains, but cotton was blooming in South Carolina, five months ahead of schedule.

A new storm struck the Pacific Northwest, the cold, weather in 60 years hit eastern Washington states.

TRAIL BUDDING

In Virginia, trees were budding and flowers were blooming as January heat records toppled in many communities.

Rain pelted wide areas. Freezing rain splashed many sections and travel slid into a crawl. Fog covered the area of New York City and New Jersey.

Winds of torrid intensity ripped through an area near front, Mo., last night, demolishing houses and partially disrupting communications. Warm winds whipped up the worst dust storm in years in Texas and damaged tomatoes and other crops in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Weather bureau forecasters predicted a new blast of freezing weather for southern California.

But it was far below freezing—and below zero—in the northern plains. The icy air moved from western Canada into the central states and south as far as Little Rock, Ark., and Dallas, Tex. Temperatures dropped rapidly over some of the Midwest areas where they had reached into the 60s and 70s yesterday.

Poor Sellers Hurt British

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP)—The need for better individual representation in British trade missions was stressed at Anglo-Canadian trade committee meetings.

Sir Graham Cunningham, former head of the dollar exports board, told the committee that this was the most important lesson he had learned during visits to this country in 1940.

Henry Morgan, president of Henry Morgan and Co., of Montreal, said British manufacturers tended to choose representatives between the two trades routes who had much technical knowledge but lacked selling ability. If they could strike a "happy medium" between the two trades routes would be greatly improved he said.

Morgan said the most serious complaint on British goods, was poor delivery.

Recognition

LONDON, Jan. 26 (Reuters)—Russia has decided to recognize the new United States of Indochina as a sovereign state and to establish diplomatic relations with it, Moscow Radio announced last night.

The U.S. said was hit by a flash flood caused by torrential rains and record-breaking temperature of 55 above zero.

Fifty-three CNR passengers who have been stranded in a construction camp at St. John's, B.C. for about a week are due to arrive in Edmonton tonight.

The train will be the first from British Columbia since the blizzard-tied-up transportation nearly a week ago.

WARM IN EAST

Manitoba was experiencing blockaded highways in many areas as the result of a furious blizzard yesterday.

In the east, an unreasonable mild spell in southern Ontario was expected to terminate today as cold air moves in from the west.

Thirty-two families were rescued by firemen in North Bay when the does not uncoiling and watering of these liquors.

On the other hand, a comparatively small amount of liquor is imported in wood and is bottled here. In these cases a certain amount of watering is done so the liquor will be the required 50 per cent.

But, mind you, all the bottling and watering done is tested by an officer of the Canadian customs department.

Another point Mr. Mason stresses is that all liquor is bottled and watered here is easily identified from the price labels posted in the Alberta Liquor Control Board stores.

When you see the note "imported in wood" beside the label ings of one type of Scotch whisky, one brand or rum or some types of Australian and South African brandy, that means the bottling of the spirits was done here.

But any liquor imported in bottles hasn't had as much as a drop of Saskatchewan river water added to it.

Namoo Airport 'Out' As Civilian Flying Port

Shifting the site of the civil airport to Namoo would not be favored by military authorities said Defence Minister Brooke Claxton here today.

Wherever possible, military and civilian airports are not flown from the same fields, he said, because of the hazardous nature of military flying.

The question at Namoo has not yet come up for discussion," said the minister, "but it will be discussed if it is believed advisable in the future."

He referred to Namoo as "one of the finest airports on the continent."

"Edmonton has become one of the key places in Canada because the whole of the northwest farm out here," said Mr. Claxton.

ON HIGHWAY

Services are expanding $15,000,000 a year to maintain the highway, air, starting roads, and telephone system to the north, he said.

Included in the system are 28 telegraph stations and seven radio stations.

The minister supported the proposal to construct a highway through the Yellowknife Pass as a strengthening link in the military communication system.

Such a highway, which would "strengthen the economy and communications of the country" would also strengthen the military organization, he said.

The RCAF's F-84 jet fighters will be based by the Winter Ex-perimental Establishment at Edmonton, said Mr. Claxton, but it is not expected they will be brought here this winter.

Recruiting for the permanent forces is highly satisfactory, army and air force reserve units are under-manned, he said. The army reserves need an additional 700 men.

PEAKS TO GRITS

In Edmonton, the defence minister will confer with AVM C.R. Dunlop, ACOW Northwest Air Command, and Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, GOC Western Command.

He will also visit local army, navy and air establishments.

He addresses the Edmonton Liberal Club today and the United Service Institute of Western Alberta political science club tomorrow.

He will go north early next month to witness Exercise Sweetheart in the Yukon.

Nearly 100 executives of Edmonton Liberal clubs were present today at an Edmonton Provincial Liberal Association luncheon in honor of Mr. Claxton, who arrived in the city today.

Head table guests were Sen. and Mrs. J. W. Stansburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weibull, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fred Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. George Prudham, Mr. and Mrs. John Deere and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harper Provost.

Long Strike Seen Over Pension Plan

Auto Workers Union Foresees Long Dispute With Chrysler

DETROIT, Jan. 26 (AP)—The United Auto Workers (UAW) faced up today to the possibility of a long strike for the kind of pension plan they want from Chrysler.

Some union sources say the strike which started yesterday may last at least a month. It made 100,000 workers idle.

State and federal labor mediators, however, express hope that bargaining talks may be resumed this week.

Both company and union representatives said they are willing to return any time the mediators arrange a meeting.

At a dead stop is daily production of 7,000 automobiles by Chrysler of the motor industry's three top producers. Chrysler's major rivals are Ford and General Motors.

Basically, the company-union fight is over the form and administration of size monthly pensions.

REJECT OFFER

After negotiations covering half a year Chrysler offered the pensions. But the union objected to the conditions.

The six-month negotiations broke off with sharp comment from both sides.

Officials of the Chrysler Corporation said the strike... is not over within a few days, production in the passenger car and motor plants... will probably be forced to a strike still by Feb. 10 to 15 and the truck plant production will be stopped during the first week of February.

Some supplies including metal body stampings and gears are direct from Detroit. Chrysler of Canada employs about 1,500 men.

Credit for Rainfall Given Chemical Use

By Howard W. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Twenty dollars worth of silver iodide smoke caused two small clouds in New Mexico last summer to dump more than enough water to fill New York City's reservoirs, it completely empty.

All this—220,000,000 gallons—came in one day from one, possibly two, small clouds 25 miles south of Albuquerque. The rainstorm travelled 250 miles.

In the same period a rainstorm that travelled across New Mexico, Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas was possibly largely due to silver iodide smoke generated on the ground near Albuquerque on four days from July 20 to 23.

These rain-making reports were made today by Dr. Irving Langmuir, of General Electric Company, to the institute of the aeronautical sciences.

Dr. Langmuir holds that silver iodide smoke or dry ice can make useful rain. The U.S. weather bureau has reported that clouds thus far made were not useful, and might have fallen anywhere. Meteorologists admitted that last July's rain, and also one created in New Mexico in the fall of 1948, may have added up to 10 per cent more rainfall from clouds that would have rained anyhow. Langmuir's calculations today were that most of the rain was man-made.

GREAT HEAT GENERATED

He told of some new ways to make rain and said that he believes they will work in a fairly dry climate like New Mexico and Arizona.

Using these methods he said there is a one-in-three chance of rain falling heavily at any one place in one day in New Mexico. He said the cost of producing this much would be $1 worth of silver iodide smoke for each 40,000 square miles.

If he added, similar conditions prevailed throughout the United States, the country's rainfall could be doubled at a cost of only about $100.

But you must hit the particular key spot in the cloud, or it won't rain. And you can overdo, which prevents instead of starts a rainstorm.

The rainmaker, said Langmuir is playing with a force mightier than nature. Two cents worth of the silver smoke can produce as much heat as one atom bomb. This heat comes from the freezing of water droplets—which give up heat.

Handling this tremendous heat right, Dr. Langmuir said, is the secret of his theory of rain-making.

'SWEEP THE COUNTRY'

Square Dance Revival Pledged From Calgary

CALGARY, Jan. 26.—(CP)—With the avowed intention of "sweeping something in Calgary that will sweep the country," representatives from 16 community and service clubs have formed The Canadian Square Dance Association here.

The organization's aim is "to preserve for its members and for all future generations the right of mankind to seek rest from the burden of its daily cares through indulgence in old-fashioned square dances."

Included in its nine-point code of ethics is a pledge that members will do everything in their power to perpetuate the organization throughout Canada.

and "we shall refrain from forcing our square dance on unsympathetic people."

President Clifford Maberly blamed the falling off in old-fashioned dance on critics who know only 10 to 15 dances.

W. Hanstman, who introduced himself as "one of the oldest policemen in the hall," said he was lacking the association because "when I walk into a dance hall today it makes me sick and tired."

Russ Walkout Seen as Help To UN Group

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Jan. 26

(CP)—Russia's walkout from the coming winter session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council may temporarily be a help rather than hindrance, some western delegates believe.

"Ecosoc" opens its 10th session here Feb. 7.

Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia will walk out at the opening meeting if they stick to the line carried out already in 19 UN groups. Each time they walk out the Soviet-bloc countries declare they will not return to that group until national Chinese diplomats are ousted. Walkouts are expected in some 200 UN bodies which are yet to have their first meeting in 1950.

Those delegates who see little harm in an unopposed Russian boycott of Ecosoc, can point to two factors to back their argument.

1. Ecosoc work in the field has been carried out largely in areas outside the Soviet bloc—by virtue of Soviet non-participation.

2. Russia refuses to take part in Ecosoc's specialized agencies such as the World Health Organization, the Food and Agriculture Organization, the International Bank, the International Refugee Organization and the International Civil Aviation Organization.

The only specialized agencies where Russia is a member are the Universal Postal Union and the International Telecommunications Union.

3. The main role played by Russia in Ecosoc has been as a critic of western plans.

4. Russia refuses to give statistics on almost all components which go to make up a world economic and social picture.

Some informed opinion is that the only effect of a Communist boycott of this session will be to cut down on time-wasting propaganda.

$350 Million Loss Big Trade Mystery

OTTAWA, Jan. 26.—(CP)—Unless the trade department is telling under a misapprehension, there are a lot of dollars mysteriously disappearing into the realm of the unknown.

The mystery arises out of Marshall aid fund allocations for off-shore purchases in Canada. The last 21 months' $1,077,000,000 has been allocated and by far the largest share—about 82 per cent—covers Canadian shipments to United Kingdom.

By rights, under Economic Co-operation Administration bookkeeping, Canada should have obtained $500,000,000 during the 21 months from Britain through ECA spending.

But departmental officials say Canada did not get more than $400,000,000 or $500,000,000—perhaps not that much. They say the crux of the mystery of a disappearance of between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 lies in the balance of Anglo-Canadian trade.

Usually, each year Britain ends up in the red in trade with Canada. The deficit normally amounts to roughly $300,000,000; that is, Canada sells about $300,000,000 worth of goods and buys only $300,000,000.

Officials say that Britain makes up the deficit in two ways: one, through use of the Canadian loan

Communist Violence Up 50 Per Cent in Year, Hoover Reports

By W. R. Higginbotham

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover reported today that his job of investigating subversives is bigger now than ever before.

He reported also that domestic violence "aggravated by Communists and Communist front organizations" went up 50 per cent in 1949 over the previous year.

Hoover's report was included in the record of recent hearings before a house appropriations subcommittee. Justice department testimony was that:

CHECK CANADIAN BORDER In discussing the work of the FBI, Hoover said the job of investigating subversives is greater now than at the peak of World War II. He said he has put his "very best resources" into the job.

He described as "paramount" the need to control the "dangers" that are inherent in Communism and the subversive activities of foreign agents.

"Some of our problems," he said, "are aggravated by Communists and Communist front organizations which exist in areas where the civil life has no place to go. All these problems arise and endeavoring to aggravate the situation."

2. Immigration authorities have 1,000 cases "under active investigation" for cancellation of citizenship for previous Communist party membership. They submitted a list of 100 "Iron Curtain" Europeans ordered deported as subversives, but still at large because they have no place to go. Altogether, the service said, there are 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 aliens in the country.

3. The immigration service is running a spot check along the Canadian border in order to prevent the entry into this country of 1,000 to 12,000 persons on a Canadian list of subversive subjects.

KNIFE IN HAND ready to make another cut, Alex Cunningham makes traditional address to the haggis at Edmonton's Burns night celebrations last night.

Second Robbie Burns Said Needed in Canada

Canada needs another Robbie Burns to settle the route of the Trans-Canada highway through the mountains, members of Edmonton Burns Club were told last night on the 191st anniversary of the beloved bard's birth.

In his salute to the "immortal memory" Group, Capt. Cecil A. Davidson, OBE, recalled Burns had once written a poem which resulted in a referendum project.

He wrote a strongly worded poem of objection when a Scottish nobleman cut down a forest. As a result, the peer initiated reforestation. Another Burns might be able to settle the battle of the Passes, Group, Capt. Davidson suggested.

WHISKY FOR CURRENCY

The retired officer pointed out that Scotland had her austerity and currency problems in the days of Burns, 150 years ago. With tongue in cheek, he suggested the great Scottish whisky exporting business was the result.

"Mightful parliamentarians put a tax of sixpence a bushel on malt," he recalled. "Whereupon, the impoverished highlanders emerged cannily from their moors and glens to sell their undiluted and untaxed 'mugshot' to the receptive lowlanders and thus precipitated a bucolic carnival of debauchery ending only when some genius thought of exporting the stuff out of the country, presumably in the interest of the national economy."

HIGHLAND AIR

The toast to the "Two Lands" was given by Lt. Col. W. T. Cronin DSO, former officer commanding the Edmonton regiment who recalled the experiences of Canadians in Scotland during the war.

Pipes which skirted at the Battle of Waterloo were played by bagpiper Arthur Miller. The pipes have been handed down from generation to generation in the Sinclair family and recently were given to Mrs. Don Austin, wife of the Imperial Oil manager in Edmonton.

East Hog Men Seek New Deal

NEWMARKET, Ont., Jan. 26.—(CP)—York County Hog Producers' Association today advocated setting up an organization under which Canadian swine breeders would market their own produce in Britain and other countries. For some years now hogs have been marketed abroad by the Canadian government.

and "we shall refrain from forcing our square dance on unsympathetic people."

President Clifford Maberly blamed the falling off in old-fashioned dance on critics who know only 10 to 15 dances.

W. Hanstman, who introduced himself as "one of the oldest policemen in the hall," said he was lacking the association because "when I walk into a dance hall today it makes me sick and tired."

'Sad Sam': 'Just a Sem-Eye Pro'

They say it was just like old times at that Big Four baseball league meeting in Red Deer Tuesday when John Ducey and 'Sad Sam' Timmins got to heckling each other.

At one stage Ducey fixed the Calgary hot-dog baron with a ten dollar look, then lashed out at him about the sorry appearance of the Buffalo uniforms during the last Big Four campaign.

"Isn't it about time you gave those drugstore uniforms of yours to a rummage sale?" the general manager of Eskimos needed Mr. Timmins.

And 'Sad Sam'—just a "semi-eye" pro—to hear his arch foe find 'pal Ducey' tell it, had to agree that the Buffs would do something about latching onto a new set of monkey suits.

"You know, the Edmonton teams each put out for two sets of uniforms a season," Ducey rubbed salt into the wounds.

It was not disclosed whether 'Sad Sam' also was heckled into agreeing to get some ballplayers to put into those new suits—if and when the Buffs acquire same.

That Word 'Stooge' Rinked

Perhaps the funniest of all the brushies Ducey and Timmins have had since the Big Four came into being, had its aftermath at a regular league meeting, held in Calgary in the spring of 1947.

At the time Henry Roche was president of the league. Except in Calgary—meaning Edmonton—there is—Mr. Roche generally was credited with being a live-wire prexy.

But 'Sad Sam' and even the much less excitable Harold Cundall, Purdy '99 bossman, weren't so high on Edmontonian Roche.

For one thing both were pretty certain he was too close to Ducey for the well-being of the Calgary entries. And Timmins, never one to weigh his utterances, whatever about Cundall, had made public his suspicions.

"Roche is Ducey's stooge," Mr. Timmins had expressed himself with charming frankness. "What's more," he told the newspaperman (it happened to be yours truly), "you can print that."

Naturally president Roche, a forthright individual who had never been anyone's stooge, under any circumstances, blew his top when he saw the Timmins' statement in print.

But he bided his time.

At Last—The Showdown

In due course the annual meeting was scheduled for Calgary. And then it was that Mr. Roche finally got around to 'calling' Timmins on the "Roche is Ducey's stooge" blast.

It happened to be shakedown in the same hotel in which the meeting was being held, also having been intended to sit in on it, or any portion of the confab I desired.

So it happened that I headed for the room where the diamond nuggets already were in session, only to stop short several feet of my objective when the sound of angry voices greeted me from within.

"Did you . . . or did you not say I was Ducey's stooge?" Mr. Roche was fairly shouting at the top of his voice. He emphasized his remarks by pounding furiously on what seemed to be a table. And there was no need to doubt to whom he was addressing the question.

I thought I could detect one or two snickers in the background, as though, perhaps, one J. Ducey particularly, was getting a bang out of the jim Mr. Timmins was in. For once 'Sad Sam' seemed to be stumped. He hummed and hawed, and wasn't getting anywhere until finally a Calgary newspaperman took him off the hook with:

"He didn't say anything like that, Mr. Roche. I know. I was there."

So I turned and headed quietly away without entering the room. The way I figured it, had I gone in just at that time Mr. Timmins might not have got off the hook. And after all I had put him there in the first place.

There was no need to rub it in.

Canadian Curlers Top 'Burns Day'

AYR, Scotland, Jan. 26-(CP)—Canada's visiting curlers celebrated Robert Burns' birthday in fine style yesterday, the B team defeating a combined squad of English province and Dumfriesshire province curlers 119-115 in a match at the birthplace of the great Scottish poet.

Later the Canadians were entertained to a banquet of haggis by their opponents, at which all speeches honored the bard.

But in Edinburgh, the Canadian A team didn't fare so well dropping an 113-106 decision to a team of Scottish rivals from Peebles, East Lothian and the Border provinces.

Cloverdale will play Meltons to night at the Varsity rink in a scholastic level Intermediate league game.

Winning Canadian skips on the A team were all from eastern Canada.

OTTAWA 'RIDERS' INK EX-BUFFALO GRIDDER

OTTAWA, Jan. 26-(CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders announced last night that Bill Stanton, an outside wing with the professional Buffalo Bulls last season, will line up in their inventory this fall.

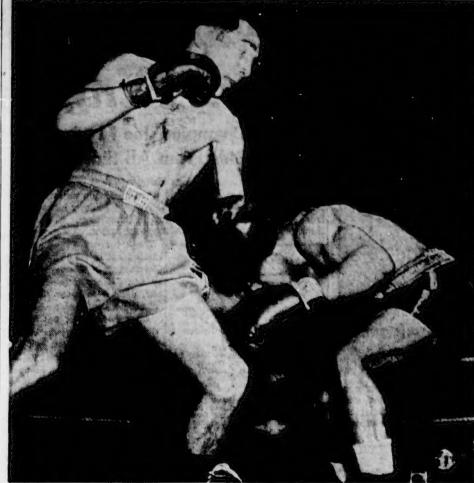

Team manager Jim McCaffrey said the six-foot, three-inch, 215-pound end had signed a contract to play with the Capital city entry in the Big Four Football league.

Stanton was a star with North Carolina State College before graduating in 1948 and turning professional.

WIDE OPEN TILT

Buff's Win 9-7 From EAC Club

Last night's junior exhibition hockey game at the Gardens, which Calgary Buffaloes won 9-7 from Edmonton Athletic Club, proved one thing: There are at least 1200 fans in Edmonton who will pay to see a good brand of inter-city junior games.

Buffaloes jumped into a 3-0 lead late in the first period only to have EAC tie the score four times before two stanzas had elapsed. Leading 7-4 after two periods, Buffs further closed the game by scoring two goals in one EAC marker in the finale.

Buff's first string forward line of Ross Tyrell—Blair Kill—Edwin Willock led the victors to their conquest over the NAJHL leaders. Tyrell and Kill each found the range for a pair of goals and Willock alone, Tyrell and Willock also picked up two assists.

BRENT MACNAB SCORED ONCE. Defenceman Brent Macnab and Jack Steele (the latter's coming of a breakaway with Buff's Blair Jeffery in the penalty box). Bob Carruthers and Howie Lacombe notched the other goals for the visitors.

Jack MacDonald led Edmonton by scoring twice and assisting on another goal by Irlman Jim Johnson. Don Perry, Ed Hespinkis, Duke Edmondson and Del St. John scored the other goals for Edmonton.

Neither goaltender played too good, as indicated by the large score. Bob Arnel in the EAC nets fanned on a long corner shot by Macnab and the 16-year-old Henry Bowen at the other end also had an "off" night. A couple of cheap ones got by him. Calgary defencemen Don Crough and Macnab suffered injuries during the night's action. Crough had much the worst of it getting clipped twice, the first time by Edmondson, who nevertheless got off without drawing a penalty. In all Crough, last year with South Saskatchewan, registered 19 stitches.

BLUELINE FACTORS . . .

It was heartwarming to see all the people (1200 paid admission) in attendance. If the weatherman had been more co-operative there would have been many more. EAC heads made enough to get off the hook.

EAC forwards did their share of backchecking, but got on the other way—well—McNally got a going-over from the crowd during one EAC power (less) play. Nobody seemed to care to get the play underway, with a buff resting in the sin bin just before the second period ended.

It's like some Joe said tober night. Edmonton is a Flyer town. Referee Peg Moon ran EAC equipment manager Sammy Shocker out of the players box in the second period for "hitting" off. Moon, incidentally, refereed a good game. Bob Haxby was blowing the other toter. No complaints.

"THE HOUSE OF PERSONALIZED SERVICE"

SHARING a wastebasket in Hatfield, Eng. are Tarahumara and Tolteca, a couple of Chihuahuas from down Mexico way. They are two of only a dozen of their breed in England and though they don't weigh so much, they are worth quite a few pounds.

Italy's Path Into Future Said Obscure

ROME, Jan. 26.—(CP)—Italy is at the crossroads. On either hand, experienced political observers say, are paths that will lead to rebirth or revolution within two years. The western democracies are concerned about Italy as a vital link in their cold war against Communism and are nursing her with dollars.

But the road Italy eventually will take is far from clear.

She is right back in her pre-war economy and her currency is among the strongest in Europe. But it is obvious that the government, and the Marshall plan executives who are lending a financial hand, aren't satisfied.

IS OVERPOPULATED

Italy is overpopulated and suffers from unemployment. There are 2,000,000 registered unemployed, mostly farm laborers, and an annual population increase of 500,000. There probably are almost 2,000,000 unemployed who are not registered—not to mention the large numbers unproductively employed. Italian industry is prevented from competing successfully abroad because of exorbitant production costs. Antiquated techniques and excessive labor forces—industries are obliged to employ five men when two would do—throttle industry.

The civil service is overstaffed; for instance, almost 5,000 persons are employed in the ministry of colonies to administer territories Italy no longer has.

Cold Storage Fights Labor

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(CP)—Another batch of cartoon characters, plus a parody of a popular song title, have been thrown into private industry's battle against nationalization.

Sugar started it, most followed suit. Now Britain's cold storage industry is in the thick of it, the fray with a poster protesting threatened state ownership. The poster portrays the interior of a cold storage plant. Four cartoon creations—an egg, a ham, a chicken, a roast of meat and a fish wearing a scarf—form a quartet, singing "Baby, It's Cold Inside."

The caption on the poster says nationalization of cold storage won't "rot any" of the housewife. The industry's "self-defence" campaign is prompted by a sentence in the Labor party's election manifesto. This pledges that "the development of cold storage, an essential service in food distribution, will be effected through public ownership."

Burns' Taxes Up To Council

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(CP)—The judicial committee of the privy council yesterday reserved judgment in an appeal to determine whether the income from funds left to charity by Senator Patrick Burns of Calgary should be taxed.

The three-day hearing concluded with arguments in favor of taxation by R. P. Morrison, K.C. and R. MacKenzie, representing Department of National Revenue.

"The funds in question are administered by Five Alberta charities by the Royal Trust Company, the Burns Memorial Trust. Burns died Feb. 24, 1937.

In January, 1946, the trust company and Burns' executors have been appealing against income tax assessments made upon the income from these funds by the minister of national revenue.

S. G. Dixon, K.C. of Montreal, replied briefly today for the Royal Trust Company and the executors of Burns' will.

Lord Greene, chairman of the five-man committee of law lords said that the issues raised were "of considerable importance to charitable institutions in Alberta."

EATON'S

Travelling FUR PROMOTION

Never before have fur fashions been so exhilarating... so dramatic... so artfully designed to make you your loveliest. The gracefully sweeping new sleeves, the soft drape of the fully flared backs, the clever collar and shoulder details... all make up the beautiful new 1950 style. Fashions to make a woman look and feel cherished.

Come, see our beautiful collection... come, select in unhurried comfort. Now is the time to shop, to compare, to ask questions. Mr. Eugene Chervin, EATON'S Fur Expert, will be on hand and you are invited to consult him. The display consisting of over 400 coats will be in Edmonton from Friday, January 27th until Tuesday, February 7th. And it will be picked with interest for fashion-wise, quality-minded women. Prices are reasonable, and there are four convenient ways to buy. Pictured here are two of the lovely furs to be seen in EATON'S Travelling Fur Stock.
